

I'll be covering the Greek goddess Hecate today, or Hekate; She was known and associated with Necromancy and black magick in general, light too and so on.

Hecate is Martian (0° in Scorpio- ready) and has a strong affinity for necromancy, unsurprisingly of course; this is her forte. She absolutely excels in this and offers to the average person, aside from that, financial support within a household, but drawback about Her is that She does make one fussy about mundane things in daily life in workings. Appearance is that of a woman with three heads, beautiful though. She seems to be short and straight to the point, not that I mind. Prefer it that way in this situation.
